THE HEAT QUESTION.
As Seen Through Statistics of the New Business at Leading Western Cities, as Furnished for Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 19.—The Price Current of to-morrow will publish returns of the winter crop-packing at the leading western cities, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Louisville. The Price Current assumes that this returns embrace over 100,000 bags of cotton, valued at $3,000,000. The aggregate at these places is 5,300,142 bags, against 4,564,693 bags last year. The average net weight is 49 lbs. 10 1/2 pounds, a decrease of 7 1/2 pounds net, or 9 1/2 pounds gross, compared with last year. The average yield of the cotton is 40 lbs. 10 1/2 pounds, against 39 lbs. 10 1/2 pounds last year. The amount of pork made is 335,000 barrels, against 288,000 last year. The amount of meat made is 353,000 barrels, against 483,000 last year. Returns plus far exceed the year's production, indicating about the same falling off in weight in the country as at the large cities, the calculations being based on the reports from places representing nine-tenths of the interior packing. The same paper contains reports from the two hundred and thirty places in regard to the prospective supply and the time of marketing spring and summer hogs, and carries with it a forecast of the year's production, which is a marked decrease, possibly a small decrease. Illinois, little if any decrease, and probably as many in Missouri, and more in Kansas and Nebraska. The most liberal are expected in May, June and July, and the latter part of the season. The total packing last summer was about 3,350,000 bags, and it is expected that there will be a decrease of twenty to twenty-five per cent. this season.

The Star and Law Library of Memphis.
The Memphis bar and law library, at the corner, is well worth a visit. The library is a large and commodious, surrounded with everything necessary to accommodate and aid lawyers desiring to hunt up authorities or get up reports. Over five thousand volumes of reports and text-books are on the shelves, and the room is adorned with portraits and plaques of the different officers of the association and its members. The property in books, etc., belonging to the library is valued at nearly twenty thousand dollars. The reports are largely American, while the English reports are few. The State statutes and digests sum up many hundreds of volumes. Besides, there is a large number of law periodicals and journals. The library renders it necessary for a lawyer to make any particular study for law books. It is a pity that the library is not open to the public. The efforts of a body of men over the efforts of an individual. By the payment of forty-four dollars a year, the library is open to the use of all the books and other property of the library, without this lawyer would be at a disadvantage. Every member of the association, especially the younger members of the profession, it is a pity that the library is not open to the public. The efforts of a body of men over the efforts of an individual. By the payment of forty-four dollars a year, the library is open to the use of all the books and other property of the library, without this lawyer would be at a disadvantage.
